

Workshop on Scientific Writing in Field Epidemiology, 2018

22-26 January 2018, Nan/Nakhon Si Thammarat Province, Thailand

The scientific writing workshops conducted in 2013, 2014 and 2015 have demonstrated effective disseminating of scientific information to wider audience around the world and produced remarkable articles which have been published in international journals. This will be the 4th scientific writing workshop conducted under the collaboration between the International Field Epidemiology Training Program and the Field Epidemiology Training Program for Veterinarians (FETPV) in Thailand.

This workshop aims to improve the scientific writing ability of FETP fellows and alumni, and promote publications in the international peer-reviewed journals.
